EQUUS ELEMENTAL BRINGS LIFE CHANGING WORKSHOPS TO SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA!
OFFERING POWERFUL PERSONAL GROWTH THROUGH THE GUIDANCE OF THE HORSE.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (April, 9, 1020): For the first time in Southern California, Equus Elemental, a company dedicated to personal development and transformational growth through an equine guided education process, will open its workshops to the public. Equus Elemental will conduct one of its 2-day Empower ~ Enlighten ~ Evolve through Equines™ workshops, in Southern Cal at t.h.e. Ranch in Calabasas, 26500 Agoura Rd., Calabasas, California 91302, on Saturday, June 19 and Sunday, June 20. For reservations call 530-265-2636. Regular tuition is $649 per person, with an early-bird special of $595, space is limited.

Empower ~ Enlighten ~ Evolve through Equines is a program that facilitates dramatic personal growth in areas such as relationships, communication, leadership, responsibility and awareness. Using the powerful, subtle and non-judgmental guidance of horses, this 2-day workshop provides a unique teaching method which accelerates personal growth allowing fast and lasting change. "This is a great opportunity for people to experience the gift of the horse in a way that will change their life. We look forward to introducing our work to a new audience, and offering the power of this transformational process." states Ezra Marrow, President and CEO of Equus Elemental, "we are excited to come to Southern California, where people are earnest about making powerful changes in their lives." Seminars remain private and are intended for those who are looking to actively make changes in their personal lives, families, businesses, organizations and in the world as a whole.

Equus Elemental workshops are led by Ezra Marrow, Briana Lorenz-Marrow and Judy Askins who bring over 20 years of combined experience in personal growth training, teaching and coaching. Their programs offer a unique equine guided education process where the fundamentals of personal empowerment, leadership and relationships are melded with a keen understanding of equine communication, and the belief that horses are innate guides and teachers.

Over the past decade Ezra Marrow has worked with a wide range of equine disciplines and breeds in his own horse training business. Through the years Ezra has found the horse to be a profound teacher, offering feedback that accelerates people's personal growth beyond traditional methods. Because horses require more of us than we often require of ourselves, he knows they give us a rare opportunity for learning and significant change. He and co-founders Briana Lorenz-Marrow and Judy Askins, facilitate this amazing process of life-changing work for individuals, groups and organizations.

Briana draws on a diverse background to inform her teaching and facilitation. She is a Certified Professional Coach who who has worked in corporate administration, marketing and professional development. Her experience also includes teaching outdoor and experiential education. Judy is a Certified Equine Guided Educator, an award winning television writer, director, producer, and actress who spent 28 years in the entertainment industry.

Equus Elemental offers personal development and transformational growth workshops, group trainings and coaching utilizing a unique equine guided education process that provides profound and immediate results in all areas of people's lives. Using the powerful, subtle, honest and non-judgmental guidance of horses in their seminars and workshops accelerates personal growth through facilitated interaction, allowing fast and lasting change. Horses are natural teachers mirroring to us our true-selves immediately and non-judgmentally. They teach us how to be present in the moment, how to hold focus and intention, how to communicate honestly and how to be truly aware of the world around us.

Equus Elemental is a member of the Equine Guided Education Association (EGEA), and the United States Equestrian Foundation (USEF).
